Test	Result
------	--------

ABO TYPE	AB
D(Rhesus)	POSITIVE
Du	POSITIVE

. INTERPRETATION:

The DU test performed, sample showed weak/partial D antigen. This is reduced form of D antigen on red cells detected through indirect anti-globulin test only.

RECOMMENDATION:

Individuals with weak/partial D should be considered as Rh Positive when donating red cells. However, such individuals may be transfused with D negative red cells as they are at risk of developing Anti-D on exposure to D positive red cells.

METHODOLOGY:

- 1- ABO & Rh Type performed by Column Agglutination method.
- 2- Du Testing performed by IAT by tube method.
